Ike Deplores Federal Troop Use to Force Court Orders

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he deplores the use of federal troops to carry out federal court orders in civil rights cases.

But the President told his news conference the fundamental rights of all Americans would be endangered by any successful defiance of a court order.

Eisenhower made these comments in response to questions concerning his attitude toward recent school integration developments in Virginia and a statement by Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida in a magazine article that Collins supports continued segregation in that state.

Eisenhower was asked if he intends to follow "the Little Rock pattern" if he encounters further defiance of court orders in school and other integration matters.

The reporter was referring to his action in sending troops into Little Rock, Ark., to enforce a federal court order for integration in the Central High School there.

Eisenhower asked the reporter what was meant by the Little Rock pattern. When the reply was the use of troops to enforce a court order, the President said that's the point.

Businessman Convicted For Income Tax Fraud

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gordon Gasaway, a former Poplar Bluff, Mo., businessman, was sentenced today to two years and two days in prison and fined $10,000 for corporate income tax evasion.

U. S. District Judge George H. Moore passed sentence on Gasaway who was found guilty last week. The defendant waived trial by jury.

Gasaway did not ask for time to file an appeal or to put his affairs in order and began serving the sentence immediately.

Gasaway was charged with filing a false return for the Hanna & Young Handle Co., of Poplar Bluff to evade payments of about $24,000 taxes in 1945 and 1956. Gasaway, a partner in the firm and the supervisor of its records, denied the charge.

U. S. Assistant Attorney Wayne H. Bigler, Jr., said the government has civil tax claims against Gasaway on his own account for $123,000 in additional income taxes for the years 1943 and 1949. Bigler said that with interest and penalties the total is $250,000.

McDonald Egdorf, superintendent of schools at Garden City, N.Y., will be the principal speaker at Smith-Cotton commencement exercises this year. He is a graduate of Smith-Cotton and resided in this area for many years.

Dr. Samuel Shepherd, director of elementary schools in St. Louis, will be the commencement speaker at Hubbard High School. Both speakers were approved by the Sedalia Board of Education at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Dr. Heber Hunt, superintendent, recommended a schedule of graduation exercises for both schools, and these recommendations were approved by the board.

The schedule begins with Recognition Assembly May 16 at 9 a.m. The baccalaureate service will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 18. The candle service will be held Monday, May 19, at 3 p.m. The junior-senior tea will be held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, and the spring formal will be held at 9 p.m. the same day.

Hubbard High School will hold commencement exercises Friday, May 23, at 8 p.m.

Smith-Cotton will hold commencement exercises May 22 at 8 p.m. If the weather permits, the Smith-Cotton High School commencement exercise will be held at the Jennie Jaynes Lewis Stadium. In case of inclement weather, the exercise will be held in the auditorium at Smith-Cotton.

The resignation of Preston Koprivica, science teacher at Smith-Cotton, was accepted, and a leave of absence was granted to Mrs. Patty Wagenknecht, second grade teacher at Mark Twain.

Three new teachers were employed.

Russell Boone was employed as music teacher at Hubbard School on a 9½ months basis. He is a graduate of Lincoln University and expects to receive his master's degree from MU at the close of the summer term. He has been music instructor at Douglas High School in Columbia for the past eight years.

Donald Donath was approved as instructor of driver training at Smith-Cotton and Hubbard. This action was based on the transfer of Charles Vanderlinden to the science vacancy created by the resignation of Preston Koprivica.

State Women's Clubs Hear Nuclear Views

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri Federation of Women's Clubs heard opposing views on the matter of nuclear testing at the opening last night of its convention in St. Louis.

Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Churches, called for the temporary suspension of nuclear tests and for universal disarmament.

Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the Globe-Democrat, told the group the United States should continue nuclear tests until it is certain it could win a world conflict and that the Russians will not attack.

Donath is a graduate of Smith-Cotton and will be graduated from CMSC this spring. He is married and his wife teaches instrumental music at Whittier and Washington Schools.

Mrs. Marjorie Lockett Davis was approved as an elementary teacher, probably in the music department at Jefferson. She is a graduate of MU, with additional training at the University of New Mexico and the University of Colorado. She has had extensive training and teaching experience in the music field, and, as her late husband was a State Department employee, she has traveled extensively.

The board rejected a proposal involving purchase of three lots with two houses located at 612 and 614 South Summit. The DeJarnette agency offered the lots for $7,500, but the board determined this was too high. The lots would have been used to extend the highway.

Bankers Vote Against Unit Banking Plan

Proposal Beaten By Five Votes During Annual Convention

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Missouri Bankers Assn. has defeated a proposal which would have put it on record as favoring unit banking over branch banking.

The proposal, offered in the form of a constitutional amendment, was beaten by only five votes at the banker's annual convention here yesterday.

The measure needed a two-thirds majority for passage. Debate which preceded the vote produced some heated arguments. Bradford Brett of Mexico, Mo., moved for adoption of the proposal. James P. Hickok, president of the First National Bank of St. Louis, spoke against it as president of the five-bank St. Louis Clearing House Assn.

Ray Evans of Carthage, past president of the Missouri Bankers Assn., opposed the measure, saying the real question was whether the amendment procedure should be used to fix policy "for this generation and generations to come."

William Enright Jr. of St. Joseph said some bankers who favored branch banking preferred passage of a resolution instead of an amendment which would be binding on MBA officers. He opened debate for proponents of the amendment.

Another opponent of the measure was Frank Knox of Springfield, also a past president of the MBA. "Branch banking—if that's the issue—will be decided in the legislature and will be enacted when a majority of the public wants it," he said.

Sam Ross of Memphis, Mo., said "what you are doing is trying to tear the organization apart by making a split in it." Earlier J. C. Welman of Kennett, president of the American Bankers Assn., told the Missouri group that powerful influences in the economy will "insure against a repetition of the 1930s." He said he questioned the wisdom of a tax cut at this time.

Praises Efforts Of Lebanon Government To Preserve Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today praised what it called the "courageous efforts" of the government of Lebanon to preserve Lebanese security. A spokesman said this country has dispatched some anti-riot weapons for use by the police there.

A statement issued at the State Department in effect extended U. S. moral support to the Lebanese leadership in its struggle with violent demonstrations widely attributed to agitation by the United Arab Republic.

Press Office Joseph Reap said that since 1956 the United States has trained Lebanese police in this country and has furnished certain equipment for them.

Salan to Take Over Junta Led by Massu

First Official Act By New Cabinet Of Premier Pflimlin

PARIS (AP)—The French government today ordered Gen. Raoul Salan to take over command of Algeria from an insurrectionist junta led by a tough paratroop officer.

In its first official action since being installed early today, the new cabinet of Premier Pierre Pflimlin also banned all public demonstrations throughout France and in Algeria.

Salan, commander of all troops in Algeria, was ordered to take full command in the North African Colony from paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu.

Massu demanded that President Rene Coty put wartime hero Gen. Charles De Gaulle at the head of a government outside politics. This would be a military dictatorship.

The cabinet told Salan to maintain law and order in the Algerian capital of Algiers and to guarantee the protection of lives and property.

Coty had ordered the army in Algeria to call off its insurrection against Premier Pflimlin's government.

"In my capacity as chief of the army . . . I give you an order to fulfill your duties under the authority of the government of the French republic," Coty said in a message prepared for broadcast to Algeria.

The leader of the military junta which had seized power in the North African capital, paratroop Gen. Jacques Massu, meanwhile repeated his demand that Coty summon wartime hero Gen. Charles De Gaulle from retirement to head a government "outside politics"—a military dictatorship.

Massu demanded that the war on the Algerian rebels be pushed vigorously to conclusion. In a new statement broadcast by Algerian radio he termed the Pflimlin Cabinet a "government of abandonment."

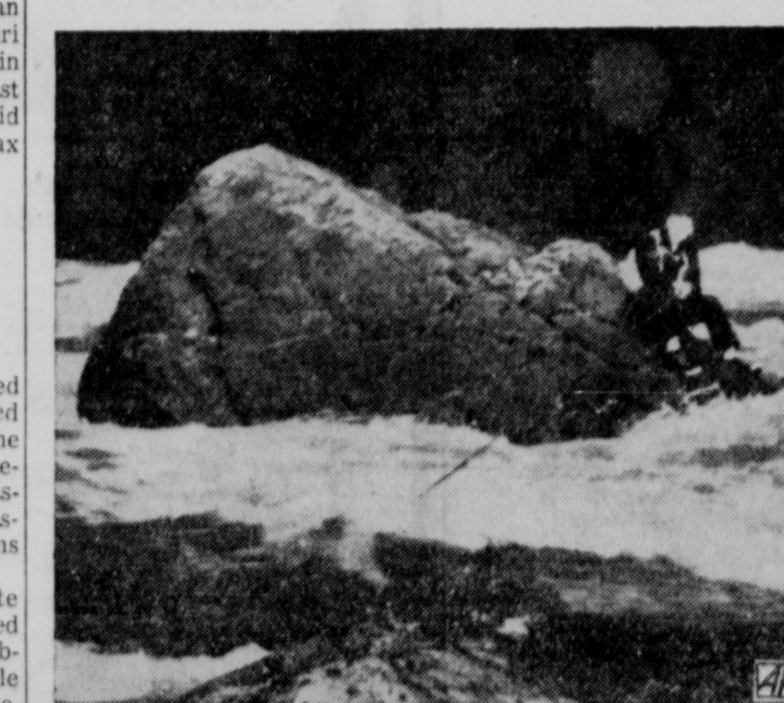

The Assembly reacted immediately to the military seizure of power in Algiers and in a post-midnight session voted Pflimlin into office 274-129 and Coty installed the cabinet at once.

The Assembly vote came after a day of wild rioting by French ultranationalists in Paris and Algiers. In the North African capital the mob sacked the U.S. information library and occupied the central government building, finally giving way to the military. In Paris police cordons kept the demonstrators from storming the Assembly building and arrested some 85 leaders of extreme rightist political groups.

The demonstrations and the Algerian coup were sparked by fear that Pflimlin's moderate government might yield to increasing international pressure to end the 3½-year-old Algerian rebellion by political concessions which would loosen French control in Algeria. Both mobs shouted anti-American slogans, the result of persistent reports that the U.S. government is urging negotiations with the Algerian nationalists.

After the Cabinet meeting Pflimlin repeated previous pledges to increase efforts to keep Algeria for France.

Petrillo Announces Retirement from AFM

NEW YORK (AP)—James C. Petrillo announced today he will step out as president of the American Federation of Musicians next month after 18 years in the post. He said his physician had advised him to take things easy.

Petrillo, who is 66, has been an officer of the AFM for 26 years. He is a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

He said he will have to ask that he not be renominated when the union holds its 61st annual convention in Philadelphia.

Petrillo made known his feelings in a communication published in the organization's official publication, The International Musician.

Ships Sent To Move Americans

US Embassy Orders Action in Tripoli Amid Great Tension

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The U.S. Embassy sent a ship today to pick up Americans in Tripoli after getting reports the situation is serious in that North Lebanese port. Antigovernment violence meanwhile moved into its fifth day in Lebanon. A bomb exploded harmlessly in front of the U.S. Embassy here.

U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock told reporters there are 33 Americans in Tripoli. Most are members of the Presbyterian mission. He said they are not being ordered out but have been advised to leave.

McClintock emphasized the situation is serious in Tripoli, where a U.S. Information Agency office was sacked Saturday at the outset of demonstrations. Lebanese authorities evacuated Americans from the Bekaa valley in eastern Lebanon as bombing and shooting and strikes swept the country.

Lebanese armored cars escorted eight Americans and two Cypriot girls into Beirut from the remote Bekaa valley on the advice of the U.S. Embassy.

Six Americans were connected with the American University agricultural school. A university staff member, Don Steele of Nephi, Utah, said there had been no attacks on the university property.

Steele was accompanied by his wife Nancy, his 2-year-old son Paul and his aunt Ellen from Salt Lake City.

The government of President Camille Chamoun was reported standing defiantly against the shooting, burning mobs.

The disturbances that have racked this tiny eastern Mediterranean republic subsided again into sporadic shooting during the curfew Tuesday night. With the lifting of the curfew shooting increased and mobs returned to the streets.

The death toll in rioting in Beirut since Monday reached an estimated 20 persons. It was expected to go higher. At least 32 other persons have been reported killed since the trouble began Saturday in the north Lebanese port of Tripoli.

Rioters led by supporters of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic seek to overthrow Chamoun and his government. Mobs have wrecked two U.S. information Agency libraries, in Beirut and Tripoli.

Officials said the bomb thrower at the U. S. Embassy was caught but was not immediately identified.

Highly reliable sources said Chamoun has told his government: "I shall stay in office. I won't budge."

Ike Telephones Him

Nixon Reports Caracas Quiet

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Vice President Nixon, object of a mob's howling wrath Tuesday, assured President Eisenhower by telephone today that all is calm in Caracas.

Eisenhower sent 1,009 Marines and paratroopers into the Caribbean as a precaution and followed up with a telephone call to Nixon at the U.S. Embassy's residence this morning.

Nixon assured the President everything is under control. But U.S. Air Force guards encircled the ambassador's residence and hundreds of Venezuelan police and troops patrolled surrounding roads.

Authorities made all-out preparations to assure Nixon's safe departure tonight as the vice president conferred with Venezuelan officials at the ambassador's residence.

Nixon will ride in a bullet-proof limousine sent by Junta President Wolfgang Larrazabal. The route to the airport will be cleared of traffic. Armored cars and tanks will be stationed at intersections.

Eisenhower sent the U.S. troops to bases in Cuba and Puerto Rico three hours flying time from Caracas Tuesday. The Defense Department said they were available if Venezuelan authorities sought assistance, but the Junta said it would handle the situation.

Venezuelan newspaper condemned the attacks on Nixon.

The Communist party declared the vice president provoked the riots by coming to Venezuela.

Some papers blamed the rioting on followers of ousted ex-dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Nixon refused to cut short his stay in Venezuela but decided against any more public appearances.

Aboard 36 Airplanes

Army Troops Reach Base in Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said today 36 Air Force planes carrying Army troops to the Caribbean area had reached Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico.

The troops were ordered into the area by President Eisenhower for possible use if Venezuela should ask for assistance in protecting Vice President Nixon on his goodwill tour.

At least 13 Navy planes loaded with two companies of Marines were flying to Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. The first Marines arrived there early this morning.

An additional company of Marines was flown by helicopter from Camp Lejeune, N. C., to the Cuba-bound aircraft carrier Tarawa.

The Air Force said the airlift of 101st Airborne Division and equipment was accomplished with transports and cargo planes.

One of the cargo planes from Andrews Air Force Base near Washington put down at Eglin AFB in Florida this morning. Engine trouble forced the transfer of its cargo to another aircraft which then set out for Puerto Rico.

President Eisenhower ordered 1,000 troops to the Caribbean yesterday after angry, jeering street mobs in Caracas, Venezuela's capital, assaulted Nixon's automobile.

caravan with rocks, sticks and eggs.

Neither the vice president nor Mrs. Nixon was injured. But six Americans in their good will party were hurt, chiefly by glass from smashed car windows. It was the most vicious of a series of anti-U.S. outbursts since Nixon began his South American tour last month.

In announcing the dramatic airlift, the Defense Department emphasized it was a precautionary measure taken "to cooperate with the Venezuelan government if assistance is requested."

But Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, who heads Venezuela's ruling military junta, later said the Nixon party would be protected fully without calling on U.S. troops.

The unexpected show of force brought mixed reaction from Congress. Some Senate Democrats condemned it as unnecessary and unfortunate. Senate Republicans generally defended the move.

Four companies of Marines and paratroopers were flown to U.S. bases in Cuba and Puerto Rico, and another company of Marines was ordered aboard the aircraft carrier Tarawa early today, also headed for the Caribbean area.

Barely two hours after the order, two companies of the Army's famed 101st Airborne Division began boarding transport planes at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Mob Violence Against Nixon Reflects Communist Pattern

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today mob violence against Vice President Nixon in South America appears to reflect a pattern of Communist inspiration and exploitation.

But, he told a news conference, he believes economic troubles are partly responsible for the anti-American demonstrations in such countries as Venezuela and Peru.

Eisenhower said Communist inspiration seems to be behind the demonstrations in some other parts of the world, but added that the unrest in French Algeria may be caused by something else.

Eisenhower spoke in response to a request for his assessment of the current wave of anti-American demonstrations in South America—particularly what has happened to Nixon and his party in Venezuela and Peru.

A reporter asked whether the President saw any pattern of Communist inspiration or whether it also could be a case of genuine resentment against U.S. policies.

Eisenhower called it a complex question. Then he went on to say that he does not believe there is any single cause of the violence in the Latin American countries.

There are, he added, economic factors in the U.S. relationships with such countries as Uruguay, Bolivia, Peru and Venezuela.

In Venezuela—where Nixon and his party were stoned and spat upon Tuesday—there have been rumors, Eisenhower said, that the United States is trying to impose quotas on such oil exporting nations.

There is no truth to that, Eisenhower declared.

Then he said that U.S. economic aid and world trade is as vital to this country as is proper defense. As for the possibility of the riots being communist inspired, Eisenhower said it is an old story all over the world that the Communists try to exploit any unrest.

He mentioned Burma, Indonesia and South America as examples.

He said it looks like some sort of concerted idea or pattern. Eisenhower then said he was making no direct accusation, but that it looks like a case of a lot of smoke and therefore there is a possibility of some fire.

United In Marriage At Independence

Miss Marilyn Beulah Davidson, Warsaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davidson, and Douglas Lee Ryan, Independence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ryan, were united in marriage at half past seven o'clock Thursday evening, May 1, at Glenwood Park Methodist Church, Independence. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Ralph E. Hansen of the 15th Street Baptist Church before a chancel decorated with baskets of foliage.

Preceding the ceremony Harry Jenks, Kansas City, played selections of wedding music and also accompanied Mrs. Sherlock Craig, vocalist, as she sang, "Because and 'Wedding Prayer'."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of lace and net over satin, fashioned with a bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice was designed with a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. Her veil of illusion fell from a small crown. She carried a bouquet of orange roses and wore a corsage of yellow orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church. Serving at the bride's table were Mrs. Richard Phelps, Mrs. George Rice and Mrs. William Davidson. For traveling the bride wore a blue and white polka dot sheath dress. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at Independence.

Hurt In Car,
Motorcycle Wreck

Billy Wayne Bilderback, 22, 900 East Sixth, was painfully injured about 2:21 p.m. Tuesday in a motorcycle-car accident at Third Street and Washington. The young man was riding the motorcycle, which was badly smashed and twisted.

He was rushed to the Bothwell Hospital in the Ewing Ambulance and was given treatment by Dr. Stanley Fisher. He was later released to go to his home. Bilderback suffered abrasions of the left elbow and left ankle, along with bruises to the left leg and a slight cut on the back of his head.

Bilderback was riding his 1956 Harley-Davidson motorcycle and headed west on Third following two other cyclists, Herb Schroeder, 223 East 12th, and Robert "Bob" Paxton, 30th West Broadway. The motorcycle and a 1937 Chevrolet driven by M. B. Cooper, 69, Route 1, Smithton, who was headed north on Washington, collided.

The motorcycle was knocked over and the front left wheel ran up on to the machine.

Bilderback was thrown into the air and came down on the pavement about five feet from where the impact took place. He was knocked unconscious for a few seconds.

The right front headlight on the Chevrolet was damaged.

The car was driven away under its own power while the motorcycle was picked up by Parks City Service wrecker and taken to the Parks station.

Mine, Factory Output
Declines in April

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today production by the nation's mines and factories declined again in April for the eighth straight month.

The Board's index of industrial production declined 2 points to 126 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This seasonally adjusted figure was the lowest since October 1954, when it was also 126.

The index hit its peak of 146 in December, 1956. Its low point during the 1954 recession was 123 in July and August that year.

Output of durable goods and minerals continued to decline in April, the Board said, "while activity in nondurable goods industries was maintained at the March levels."

Further curtailment of production of steel and nonferrous metals was reported. The Board attributed this to continued inventory liquidation by industries using metals.

Activity among most producers of business equipment dropped during the month. Auto assemblies were reduced sharply.

The Board's index for auto production dropped to 81 per cent of the 1947-49 average in April, compared to 92 per cent in March.

the playground area at Washington School.

William Van Dyke, industrial engineer with the Missouri Public Service Co., submitted a plan and materials list for recommended lighting for the high school business office and part of the auditorium under the balcony at Smith-Cotton. The plans were turned over to the building committee to ask for bids. Van Dyke drew up the plan as a free service to the school.

A letter from Maurice L. Stewart, supervisor of industrial education in the State Department of Education, was read. Stewart commended the school for excellent work in the industrial arts department and the cooperative occupational education programs. Bids were opened for the purchase of two lawnmowers and a ditto machine. The lawnmower bids were turned over to the building committee for evaluation and further study. The bids for the ditto machine were referred to the high school office to determine which type machine is actually needed.

It was decided to purchase four tires for the school pickup for $27.80 each.

Farmers Are Asked to Erect Extra Bins

WASHINGTON (AP)—The specter of another possible shortage of storage to take care of the nation's grain supplies is leading the government to urge farmers to erect more bins of their own.

The country moves into the new production year with a record supply of food and livestock feed grains. But the prospects of the third largest wheat crop of record and of big crops of corn and other grains raises the possibility that more storage facilities will be needed.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has said that he hopes the government itself will not be forced to buy additional bins. It already owns facilities with a storage capacity of about a billion bushels. It had been Benson's hope to get the government out of the storage business.

The department is broadcasting through grain areas pamphlets telling producers it will pay them to buy or build storage facilities for their farms.

In these the department points out that it will make loans at 4 per cent interest covering up to 80 per cent of the cost of facilities. These loans are payable over a five-year period.

In addition, the department offers farmers payments for storing government grain in their bins. These rates are 16 cents a bushel a year for corn and barley; 16 and 17 cents for wheat, depending on the state; 12 cents for oats; and 28 to 31 cents a hundred-weight for grain sorghums.

Officials say these payments would pay for new bins in two or three years. Hence the claim that it will pay farmers to build new bins.

Oscar Levant Claims Child Prodigy Honor

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Oscar Levant self described world's oldest child prodigy, says his wife cracked his rib during a domestic quarrel.

"I just gave him a little push," said Mrs. Levant, the former June Gale of the singing Gale Sisters. "I know the rib is broken," complained the pianist-humorist when he arrived for his local television program yesterday.

"It was a one-sided argument," said Levant. "We were playing emotional ping-pong and she hit me with the paddle."

"He's always been a hypochondriac," said Mrs. Levant who has been married to the dour-faced piano player for 18 years.

"The secret of marriage," Levant said, "is they murder you and then you apologize for it."

They wouldn't say what the fight was about, but they made up.

Levant added: "I don't blame her for hitting me. How would you like to be my wife?"

Benson Says Co-Ops Answer Higher Costs

GRAY SUMMIT, Mo. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said yesterday that co-operative buying, servicing and selling is the answer to increasing costs of farm production and distribution.

The secretary slogged through ankle deep mud as he inspected cattle before dedication of the Danforth Farm Youth center here.

Benson said, "They will have to finance more joint buying, more joint service operations, but above all more joint selling."

He said opportunities in farming are greater than they were a generation ago but qualifications for success are more exacting.

"It is plain that overall production cannot be controlled through an attempt to control acreage of a few basic crops," he said.

The farm center, 43 miles west of St. Louis, will be used to help youths to develop better farm products.

Ike Dispatch Of Troops Due for Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's dispatch of 1,000 fighting men to the Caribbean appeared destined today to figure largely in a Senate investigation of Latin American mob action against Vice President Nixon.

The inquiry, by a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee headed by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), is expected to highlight a sharp division of opinion between Republicans and Democrats over the wisdom of the troop move.

Morse said he wants the State Department to tell why it didn't take advance precautions to prevent the kind of mob violence to which Nixon and his wife were subjected in Caracas, Venezuela.

"I want the vice president to know if he cares to volunteer any information he will be welcome," Morse said.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), who joined several other Democrats in condemning the order sending paratroopers and Marines to U.S. bases in the Venezuela area, calling for a searching investigation of U.S. relations with Latin America.

Sen. George Smathers (D-Fla.) told his colleagues the worst thing we could do would be to send in the Marines to Venezuela. Although the troops were ordered to stand by to cooperate with Venezuelan authorities if asked to do so, Smathers said a move of this kind would "play right into the hands of the Communists."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), senior Republican on the Senate Armed Services Committee, wanted to know if Smathers would "close your eyes" if the Venezuelan government failed to protect Nixon and his wife.

"I for one am for protecting the dignity of the United States," Bridges said. "I am not for turning the other cheek."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said he thinks it is right to have U.S. troops in position to protect Nixon and other Americans, but hopes they are not needed.

He said the attacks on Nixon apparently were part of a Communist diversionary tactic.

Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind) said he favors doing whatever is necessary to protect the vice president, but hopes the series of incidents will lead to closer relations between the United States and Latin America.

Chef's Madame Must Do Her Own Cooking

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP)—French chef Jean Marcel has few equals when it comes to turning out a delectable soufflé or a savory coq au vin at the Stork Club in Manhattan, where he has worked these past 20 years. But when he's at home — alone! — c'est Madame Marcel who must do the cooking.

That's what started the trouble that landed him in Nassau County District Court yesterday.

As police tell it, Marcel arrived home for dinner last Friday to find no dinner and no wife waiting for him. He waited, he became irritated — finally he made his own supper.

When Mrs. Marcel arrived, she explained she'd been out shopping with her sister, Mrs. Annie Demin of Hollywood, and her mother, Mrs. Florence Holywell.

Angry words were spoken, Mrs. Holywell was hit on the head with a coffee table, Mrs. Demin suffered broken ribs, cuts, bruises.

Charges were not preferred until Monday. In court yesterday, Marcel pleaded innocent to second degree assault. He was allowed to go back to his job cooking crepes suzette at the Stork Club, pending grand jury action.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held at Knob Noster

The Knob Noster High School juniors and faculty sponsors, Dale Costigan and Mrs. Stuart Cleveland, entertained the seniors at the annual junior-senior banquet Friday evening in the elementary school building. Other guests were members of the high school faculty, their husbands and wives and members of the school board and their wives.

The room had the appearance of a Hawaiian setting with a grass shack on an island and orange lemons and shells on the grass. There were palm trees, monkeys, a fish net, an oar and a lagoon with colored water lilies.

There was a large painting, done by the juniors, on the front wall of a Hawaiian scene, showing the ocean, mountains, palm trees, sailboat and the moon. Tables were covered with blue crepe paper covers, various colored tapers, napkins with "Junior-Senior Banquet '57-'58" in the corners, miniature palm trees and multi-colored leis. Favors were yellow booklets, shaped like pineapples.

The banquet was prepared by members of the PTA. Sophomore girls served.

Attempt to Revive School Star Fails

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Three hours of artificial respiration Tuesday failed to revive 17-year-old Kurt Brown, football and basketball star at St. Joseph Central High School.

Brown and several companions skipped their morning classes to go swimming at Lake Browning, which adjoins Rosecrans Field. Brown shouted for help and was in the water about 10 minutes before he was pulled out by Ronnie Atkins, a former teammate now attending junior college.

Business Bombings Draw Investigators

DETROIT (AP)—A wave of bombings of small business places recalling the extortion racket violence of Detroit's gang-ridden prohibition days has attracted the interest of Senate investigators.

Staff members of the special investigating committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said yesterday there may be a link between the mysterious dynamiting of small auto wash racks and cleaning and barber shops here and the underworld in New York, Chicago and Miami.

The committee, looking into wrongdoing in the labor-management field, currently is examining evidence that members of the Mafia, secret brotherhood of criminals, has extended its operations from the East Coast deep into the Middle West.

The pattern followed suggests the bombings — the work of experts — may be directed against businesses which have cut prices below prevailing rates.

So far, damage has been slight and no one has been injured.

Monday night's blast at a suburban Hazel Park barber shop, which also was bombed earlier this month, was the 10th since January. The shop charges $1 for a haircut. The union price for a haircut here is $1.75.

Claims Foreign Aid Too Self-Seeking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Our foreign aid may have been too self-seeking," says the Very Rev. James Albert Pike concerning South American rioting against U.S. Vice President Richard Nixon.

"We have perhaps been too pragmatic about foreign aid," added the retiring dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York.

He arrived last night to be inducted as coadjutor bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of California tomorrow.

Princeton Bumps Six After Finding Dancers In Dormitory Rooms

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Princeton University has bumped six undergraduates from the academic grind because strip tease dancers were found in their dormitory rooms.

Seven other Nassau students were suspended or placed on probation, the dean of students announced yesterday. The students were not identified.

The university's announcement that the six "were required to withdraw" was the first peek behind the ivy curtain which veiled the case for two weeks.

Early on May 1, police paid a visit to rooms in Borrough Hall. One of the dancers, Mrs. Judy Renee, 37, of Philadelphia, leaped from the second floor, away from the arms of the law and into Princeton Hospital where she stayed the better part of two weeks.

Another girl known as "Bubbles" made good her escape. She hasn't been seen since.

Moscow's Off The Track

When it comes to making propaganda and stirring up attention-getting incidents, the Communists the world over have always been strong on energy, but only occasionally superior in imagination.

In Lima, Peru and Caracas, Venezuela they had the energy all right, and they put it into throwing rocks and spitting in the faces of Vice President Nixon and his wife.

If the Communists imagined this behavior would enhance their case their imagination was totally at fault. Nothing could have been more poorly designed to advance the Red cause and damage the free world than this crude assault on a high dignity of a great country, and his wife.

It will have, of course, exactly the opposite effect. The Communists are made to look like animalistic barbarians. There are many quarters where you will never get much argument on that score, anyway.

What the Reds don't seem to understand is that the day is passing when people anywhere will accept carefully engineered outbreaks as the seemingly spontaneous, undisciplined uprisings of the downtrodden masses.

The staged demonstration has become a tiresome, hollow and shabby maneuver that fools no one and impresses few. Violence still makes news, but it seldom any longer makes a point.

On the other hand, Vice President Nixon met the crude challenges with a dignity and fortitude which upheld and advanced the best traditions of individual free men. And in the course of it he plainly added to his own stature as a man and a political figure, both in the world and in his own country.

If the signals for these utterly stupid attacks came from Moscow, then they'd better get a new set. Or maybe some new signal callers.

Italian Elections Involve U.S. Prestige

(Editor's Note: This is Drew Pearson's second dispatch from Rome in his coverage of the forthcoming Italian election.)

DREW PEARSON

ROME.—The average citizen of Salina, Kansas or Sioux Falls, South Dakota would have a hard time figuring out why the national election in Italy was of any great importance to him. Yet it is.

The way Italy votes ten days from now may well effect the future of the great American army base we've established at Leghorn, one of the biggest in the world. Big enough to supply all the armies of the free world East of France. Or it may well effect our base at Verona where we have one combat division which, incidentally, has made a hit with the Italian people playing baseball. And it may effect our Atomic air base at Foggia and our MATO base at Naples where the Sixth Fleet has an important operation. Of course, missiles may well have outdated these bases. But, even more important, American prestige is involved in the Italian elections, for this is a country into which we poured a great amount of aid, where we won many friends, and which has been just about our best friend in Western Europe.

It doesn't take a heavy communist vote to change this. Even a big vote by the Nenni left-wing socialists who favor neutralism could change it; or a heavy vote by the Monarchists and Fascists. Some of these are about as dependable as Mussolini, the man they once ignominiously saluted.

Macaroni for Votes.

The most colorful Monarchist candidate is Achille Lauro, ex-mayor of Naples, now touring southern Italy in two pullman cars. The caravan gives away shoes and Macaroni to voters. Lauro can afford these give-aways. He made millions as a ship operator for Mussolini, left the city treasury bankrupt, and now pretends to be a great friend of the United States. "The Democratic Christians," he tells his crowds, "have followed a wavering foreign policy toward the United States, which spells ingratitude toward the country which helped us recover from war."

What the Italian people don't know, however, is that when American troops landed in Naples, Achille Lauro was at the top of the Allied list of dangerous Italians working with the Nazis. In his home was found a case of vodka marked "From headquarters of Field Marshall Goering." Goering had been a guest in Lauro's home two months before the Allies landed. Also in Lauro's home was found a double-sided bronze medal inscribed, "To my great friend Achille Lauro from Benito Mussolini." What Italian voters also don't remember is that Lauro made his millions carrying troops for Mussolini to Ethiopia, and later to Spain.

Yet, judging by the crowds Lauro is drawing, he may pull some votes away from the Democratic Christians who, despite Lauro's statements, have been the best consistent friends of the United States.

"The American Myth."

In direct contrast to Monarchist candidate Lauro is Giuseppe Saragat, leader of the Social Democratic Party and a staunch friend of the United States. Though not now a member of the Democratic Christian government, it has been Saragat's consistent support in the chamber which has kept the government in power. I caught Saragat at his apartment in Rome between two hectic campaign trips and asked him, among other things, how the United States is now rated with the Italian people.

"The American myth is gone," he replied.

Guest Editorial

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE. Epistle From Koreans. He was a Christian, and he came from Korea. His name was Oh In Ho, and he came to the promised land of America to seek guidance and education here. In the twenty-sixth year of his life he met death, by murder most foul. He had left the campus of the University of Pennsylvania to mail a letter home, when a gang of juvenile delinquents killed him with blackjacks and pop bottles.

At his funeral on Monday, Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia broke down and wept, for the shame of his city that so dreadful a crime could occur.

Now a letter has come from Oh In Ho's parents, asking "the most lenient possible treatment within the laws of your government" for eleven teen-agers accused of the crime, and offering to set up a fund for their "religious, educational, vocational and social guidance" whenever they obtain freedom.

They wish, they wrote, to turn sorrow into Christian purpose in the hope "that we can do something to minimize such juvenile criminal actions which are to be found not only in your country but also in Korea and, we are sure, everywhere on earth."

Under the circumstances, this message has an eloquence which surpasses any comment which could be made upon it. But what can we say to them?

"We thought of America as a myth, a country which could do anything, whose power could not be challenged. Russia's sputnik exploded that myth. We still regard America as a very great and respected country, but the American myth is no more."

"In addition, Russia's new economic power has hurt," Saragat continued. She has shown impressive gains just at the time when you are suffering from a recession. Your friends know that the great majority of Americans are getting along well, but propaganda makes it appear otherwise. In fact you are also made to appear a nation very much like Hollywood, when actually you are a hardworking, serious nation of 160,000,000 people.

Kennan's Speeches.

"Another thing that has hurt the United States has been speeches by George Kennan, your ambassador to Russia, urging the acceptance of a missile-free zone in Europe," continued Saragat. "This came just as your friends over here were urging the opposite."

I told Saragat that Dean Acheson, Democratic Secretary of State who originally appointed Kennan, had strongly differed with him in a private meeting with Democratic Senators.

"He should make the statement publicly," said the Italian leader, who has suffered politically because of his staunch support of the United States. My own observations confirmed what Saragat said about Italian disappointment over Sputnik. The average Italian has had undying faith in the invincibility of the United States and when the first Russian Sputnik appeared he scoffed that the United States would soon launch something bigger and better. But as each day passed and no American moon appeared in the sky he was crushed. This was the most catastrophic defeat the United States suffered since the American Pacific Fleet was sent to the bottom of Pearl Harbor in 1941. The amazing feature is that when Secretary Dulles and the White House were warned by American scientists of this possibility they replied that if Russia launched a satellite first it would make no difference to world opinion.

Think It Through

—By E. F. Hutton

GETTING READY! — Looks like Russia and China are not ready for a hot war, but they are working like all-get-out to build a gigantic industrial community. Reading the reports from correspondents who went to China with British Labor leaders has something of the fascination of listening to the roar of an approaching tornado.

The Communists have taken agricultural China by the scruff of the neck and are molding it into an industrial machine as fast as they can. Factories, railways and bridges are being constructed at full speed. Over half of all Chinese taxes is going into heavy industry and transport. Most of the business establishments of consequence have been taken over by government.

China's dictators are working the people, and the sweat pours out of their ears. It's reported, "China is already self-supporting in pig iron and is exporting it. Anshan is now producing enough steel rails for Chia's railway program, and that includes 700 miles of new track this year.

China is not stupid. There'll be no hot war—if any—until she is fully mechanized.

Some discount should be made for possible exaggerated reporting. But the shadow of this modern Juggernaut should warn the West, particularly Europe, that there is little time to bicker, sulk, loaf and procrastinate in ignorance of the facts.

A Teaching Career

Soon some 400,000 college graduates will be job hunting. Many of these will be from liberal arts colleges with a good basic education. Unfortunately when describing themselves for prospective employers, many graduates will find it difficult to define what they have to offer for lack of specific training. Some companies prefer to train their own personnel and are glad to take an alert, intelligent, pleasing young person with a good college record and give him a chance to learn while earning.

As the teaching field is wide open, a summer course might pave the way after graduation for those who had no teaching training in college. This does not mean that teaching should be chosen as a career just because there is a shortage; but knowing there is a need, teaching might offer just the right opportunity for the right person.

Not every educated person can teach but a person well grounded in a good basic course can readily learn methods and techniques of imparting that knowledge to others is the desire to do so is present.

Five Years Change Latin American View

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five years ago Milton Eisenhower, the president's brother, made a Latin American tour and received a warm welcome. Vice President Nixon now repeats the tour and is stoned and spit upon.

Why in five years has the Latin American attitude towards this country taken such a bitter turn? There's no easy answer.

Blaming it all on Communists would be too easy, relieving this country of the need for self-examination in its relations with, and its policies towards, Latin Americans. Such a self-examination, after what happened to Nixon, seems needed.

No doubt Communist influence in Latin America has increased—as it has around the world—in the five years since President Eisenhower's brother went there and came back with this report:

"Everywhere we went, we were greeted with what seemed to be unprecedented friendliness." He and Nixon were sent on the same tour for the same purpose: fact-finding.

But there are other factors involved besides Communists, for the demonstrations against Nixon in Latin America weren't limited to college students.

For one thing, there's a recession in Latin America. This country is blamed for at least part of it because of American trade policies: the United States has cut down on its imports from there.

Many Latin Americans probably feel this country—eager to stop the spread of communism in Europe and Asia—is taking them too

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO Commencement week events for the 226 Smith-Cotton High School graduates were to start with the baccalaureate service at 2:30 p.m. at the high school auditorium, the Rev. E. W. Bartley to deliver the address. Commencement night was to be Friday, May 19, 1933.

Charles Green, Moberly Democrat, was elected as secretary of the Missouri State Fair board, succeeding W. D. Smith, Republican, who had been secretary for the fair for 11 years. Members of the fair board met in Jefferson City with Gov. Guy B. Park, ex-officio member of the board. Dates for the fair were set at Aug. 12-19.

Brandt Ridgway, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ridgway, 804 West Fourth, was elected editor of the Beloit College semi-weekly newspaper, The Round Table, for the next year.

FORTY YEARS AGO John Cashman, a former prosecuting attorney of Pettis County, was here from St. Louis and went to Houston to visit his father, Patrick Cashman, and two brothers there.

D. H. Robinson, assistant superintendent for the Missouri Pacific, returned from Concordia, where he had been on company business.

Charles B. Wallace, vice president of the Tulsa National Bank, formerly of Sedalia, was here visiting relatives and friends.

E. M. Shields, elected city collector, took charge of the affairs of that office, succeeding John F. Reece.

Louise Lake a Symbol

Finding More Abilities Than Disabilities Is Life Work

by Esther Van Wagener Tufty of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — An attractive woman in a wheel chair has just captivated many people in Washington, including The President.

Mrs. Louise Lake of Salt Lake City came here to receive the coveted President's trophy for the "Handicapped American of the Year." Stricken with polio, this wife and mother refused to be a fulltime cripple, and fills a hospital post, in which she helps other afflicted persons to become productive citizens.

The title of her job tells the major part of her story: "Physical Therapist in the Rehabilitation Department of the Latter Day Saints Hospital, Salt Lake City, Utah."

Now this ceremony, witnessed by hundreds of handicapped and those dedicated to employment of the handicapped from every state, could have been just another "affirmative" gesture to further the objective of the President's Committee to Help Employ the Handicapped.

But it was more. Washington meetings don't usually exude so much heart and courage. Louise Lake was the symbol who has made a life work of "finding more abilities than disabilities" in those she treats.

She moved the President to be "so inspired" that he said "I can now go back to work and not feel sorry for myself."

The blind chairman of the President's committee, Marine Maj. Gen. Melvin Maas (who three days ago had a stroke and expected to die) probably knew personally more people in the big Interdepartmental Auditorium than anyone else, because he has fulfilled his self-imposed promise to see "his people" in every state in the union. In a triumphant voice, he said 11 years ago, "we never dreamed when our committee was established with a trickle of public interest, that the result would be a torrent of efforts to get jobs for those once called unemployable."

General Alfred M. Gruenther, President of American Red Cross, recalled that this was the 13th anniversary of VE day, in warning of the necessity "to protect the American image which the Soviets are distorting." It was up to the famous general to aid lib until his old wartime comrade, "General Eisenhower arrived, a bit late. In desperation, General Gruenther then talked about his five grandchildren, but found a connected reason as his son, the father of those five, was wounded so severely during the Korean conflict that a permanent disability seemed certain. But he recovered and went right back to paratroop duty, now in Europe.

James T. O'Connell, Undersecretary of Labor, admitted "we have come a long way, but we have a long way to go." Especially in a recession are the handicapped, he said, apt to be the last hired and the first fired.

Edward F. Wilson, Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, reported that out of 71,000 being vocationally rehabilitated, some 14,000 had already been taken off the relief rolls and are now on the tax rolls."

The Mature Parent

Favors Mean More If Child Can Help Parent in Return

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Before Dot left for school she asked her mother to dye red a faded pink skirt of hers she wanted to wear with a new red-striped blouse.

Her mother couldn't get at it. First a charity drive solicitor called, delaying her housework. Then something went wrong with her vacuum cleaner. As the repairman was too busy to come and get it, she had to drive it downtown. When Dot got home, she had just finished applying her ancient carport sweeper to the downstairs rugs.

Dot said, "My red skirt isn't hanging on the clothesline. Mother. You dyed it, didn't you I told you I had to have it to wear to school tomorrow."

"I haven't had time to dye it," her mother said. "But you can make me the time right now if you want to. If you'll prepare the supper vegetables for me, I'll dye the skirt for you so it will be dry in time to iron and wear tomorrow morning."

The resentful anxiety left Dot's face. "O.K.," she said. "What vegetables are we having?" We do not always have the time to perform the services the young demand of us. Instead of apologizing to them for our failures to lengthen hems and iron special skirts, it is sensible to meet their reproaches with a request that they make us the time to render these services by rendering us some service in exchange.

Because children are so used to depending on us, it doesn't occur to them that they can make us the extra time we need to do special services for them. So when we have to admit we've been unable to do something they've asked, they feel very badly used. They experience the same resentment at us that a man with a broken leg in a plaster cast feels toward the leg for denying him the service he is used to getting from it.

Actually, the man with the broken leg is mad at his own helplessness.

So are the children who reproach us for failing to perform the expected service.

We release them from their sense of angry helplessness by asking them to do something for us that will make it possible to do the extra thing for them. We ask them to earn what they want.

Girlish Logic

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — Fond of bleu cheese, a Decatur girl, was preparing a salad and paused to read the label on the cheese package.

"I don't think we ought to eat this cheese," she commented.

"Why?" her mother asked. "Well, it says here that it took 90 days to cure it, and if it was that sick I don't think we should eat it."

Ruth Millett Says

What's With The Sympathy? Mother Of Five Is Lucky;

"I am good and fed up with having women with no children or only one or two offer me their sympathy because I happen to have five normal, healthy children. In my book I'm lucky. But no woman ever tells me so. All I hear is, 'You poor thing. How ever do you manage?'"

"Can't you tell women that we who have chosen to have large families don't feel we are to be pitied and that we resent being treated like unfortunate drudges by other women."

I can tell 'em. But I doubt that it will do much good. Because the woman who takes child rearing so hard that one or two children turn her into a bundle of nerves probably does feel sorry for you and for all women with large families.

Such women can't conceive that a woman with a real talent for motherhood, a knack for doing things easily and a calm disposition can rear five or six or seven children as easily as some women can look after one or two.

Nor are such women aware of the give and take and cooperation that seems to be more natural in large families than in small ones.

But don't worry about their pity. It will turn to envy when your children are grown and start having children of their own and your home is the meeting place for all the clan.

Then your riches will be obvious — and you will have other women tell you how lucky you are, instead of looking on you as an object of pity.

Besides, you have all that matters now. You have a wonderful family and you know you are lucky. What other women think about it, shouldn't bother you a bit. If you didn't think you were lucky or felt sorry for yourself, then you'd have a real problem.

SENATOR HAWKINS HONORED—Missouri legislators are frequently the target of brickbats, so the rare event when they are recognized for meritorious service they do perform, should be mentioned.

Our own State Senator C. R. Hawkins, of Brumley, representing the 33rd district, received an award for meritorious public service, and as the Senate Member Most Effective in Debate, at a dinner in Jefferson City given by the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Optimist clubs.

Nine Missouri legislators selected by a group of distinguished Missourians, received these awards from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat in its first biennial presentation. The awards were in the form of a certificate and an engraved silver plate.

Richard Amberg, publisher of the newspaper, in presenting the awards said of Senator Hawkins:

"Senator Hawkins first elected in 1944 has been especially influential in sponsoring and supporting legislation for the improvement and development of the public school system. Perhaps no other member of the Legislature contributed more to the enactment of the school district reorganization law and the school foundation law than did Senator Hawkins."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

Now that new life is sprouting leafing out or beginning to bloom, we find that this new growth needs refreshment. All plants need water and sunshine and air. The earth around them needs to be cultivated so that their roots are not stifled.

People, too, need refreshment from time to time. This need may be satisfied by water or food. Many folk require fresh air after a strifling or stuffy experience. Everyone needs some relaxation to prepare him for the responsibilities of a new day.

As we plan our refreshing experience we must include in our program some spiritual refreshment. We may need to go off by ourselves and pray for a few revitalizing moments. Perhaps we require a season of sharing our beliefs, our faith or our spiritual fellowship with our neighbors.

The reading of the Bible often adds to one's exhilaration.

We all need spiritual refreshment.

American Baritone Taught Needlework By His Mother

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (One of America's top baritone is as handy with a needle as he is an aria.)

He is Walter Cassel, the 6-foot, 200-pound Metropolitan Opera star.

"I sewed all the slip covers and the drapes in this room," he said, leaning back comfortably in the East Side apartment where he lives with his wife, Gail Manners, the soprano.

"I learned sewing as a boy. My mother was a fine milliner. My father was an interior decorator. I always wanted a sewing machine — you can do better work with one. But now that I finally have one, I find I'm too busy to use it."

The big baritone, who designs many of his operatic costumes, also is an expert photographer and woodworker. He constructed most of the built-ins in his apartment. He is also a talented cook.

Cassel, who comes from Council Bluffs, Iowa, believes any skill a man can develop is helpful. Before winning his laurels in opera, he studied dentistry and worked as flour miller, sign painter, carpenter and radio announcer to pay for his singing lessons.

The husky singer, who is built like a fullback, is a hard worker and has 25 operatic and 25 musical comedy roles in his repertoire.

Most opera stars rarely will sing more than three performances in a week. Cassel made musical headlines early this year when, during a weekend emergency, he sang three different and exacting roles within 24 hours at the Metropolitan. It was a test of stamina and virtuosity unique in the Met's history.

"The next morning he got up early and fixed my breakfast, because I had to sing in church," said his wife, smiling.

She and her husband, called by one critic "the Lunt and Fontanne of the musical theater," like to perform together whenever possible. They say a joint musical career has been no handicap.

"If you have difficult roles to rehearse, it's nice to have a partner," said Miss Manners, who comes from Akron, Ohio, and is small, pretty, and brown-eyed. Mild-mannered and soft-spoken, Cassel rarely gives vent to the displays of temperament traditionally associated with opera stars.

"You have to have enough ego to make yourself secure as a human being or an artist," he said, "but I don't think that to be a great artist anyone has to behave like a jackass."

Stan Musial, With 3000th Hit Behind Him, Seeks New Mark

CHICAGO (U)—Stan Musial, having cleared the 3,000 hit barrier, now wants to become the biggest hit maker in National League history.

Musial collected his 3,000th hit in a pinch hitting role against the Chicago Cubs yesterday which paved the way to a 5-3 St. Louis victory.

Musial had only one regret in becoming the eighth major league player to hit safely 3,000 times. "I wish I had made it in St. Louis," he said, "but I'm glad it's over with."

Cardinal Manager Fred Hutchinson had benched his star to give him the opportunity to get the big hit in St. Louis where the Cardinals meet San Francisco tonight.

But with the team trailing 3-1 in the sixth inning, a man on second and only one out, Hutchinson called on the 37-year-old veteran. Musial worked the count to 2-2 and then drove a Moe Drabowsky offering into left field for a double.

Photographers rushed on the field, the ball was brought to Musial and Hutchinson walked out to congratulate Stan.

Hutchinson then sent in a pinch runner and photographers, reporters, newsreel cameramen and well wishers mobbed Musial in the dugout runway.

Two hours later he was still surrounded by interviewers in the clubhouse.

Musial's desire to become the greatest hit maker in the league is within range. Honus Wagner ended his National League career with 3,430 hits. This figure is surpassed by the American League's Ty Cobb with 4,191 and Tris Speaker with 3,515. Behind Wagner are Eddie Collins with 3,313, Nap Lajoie 3,251, Paul Waner 3,152, Cap Anson 3,081 and Musial.

Musial is a cinch to pass Anson's total this season, but how about Waner?

"Maybe this year," said Stan, "but if I don't do it this year, I'll be back next year. I'll be back every year as long as I can hit .300."

If Musial keeps coming back and continues at the pace he has set, he will pass Wagner's total sometime in 1960.

"There'll be others joining the 3,000 hit club," he said. "It'll take a real good player who breaks in at the age of 18 or 19 and hangs around for a long time. It's a tough grind. After all, it means getting 200 hits a season for 15 years."

Musial did it in his 16th season. Cobb was the only other player to do it in less than 17 years and Musial bettered Cobb's time by three months.

ST. LOUIS (U)—From the tuxedo types to the teenagers, all fans turned out last night to greet the St. Louis Cardinals — and Stan Musial.

Although the Cards were returning from a six-game sweep over their old foe, the Chicago Cubs, most of the cheers were for Musial, who got his 3,000th major league hit yesterday, a solid double. It set up the tying run in a game which the Red Birds later won 5-3.

The crowd last night was an estimated 2,500 at Union Station. Men and women in formal dresses joined the kids.

Three shorts-clad girls carried a sign with "Stan" and "3,000" on it.

Soon after the train pulled in the chant, "We want Stan. We want Stan!" began.

Musial got off the train after the rest of the team and was kept busy signing autographs and facing up to news photographers, television and newsreel cameramen.

Stan told the crowd, "Now I know how (Charles A.) Lindbergh felt, you wonderful St. Louis fans."

I would have liked to have made the hit here but we felt the game was more important."

He'll be looking for No. 3,001 tonight when the Red Birds face the San Francisco Giants here.

Well-Known Flyers Compete

Rain Fails to Spoil Free Flight Contest

The second annual Free Flight Contest was held Sunday at the Sedalia Municipal Airport. The beautiful weather at 3 a.m. tempted 24 contestants to enter the six events 49 times to compete for 18 trophies, some entering as high as four events.

Hindered by ankle deep mud, contestants were still game and many good times were turned in.

The sun returned and caused considerable thermal activity, giving flyers better times than before. The top time of the day was turned in by Otis Goss, Independence, with three four-minute flights which was also the maximum for the day. Ed Christenson, Lawrence, Kans., followed closely with an eleven minute total.

Walter Plat traveled 190 miles from St. Louis to win the trophy for the greatest distance traveled, and 12-year-old Brain Perkins, Mission, Kans., won the youngest entry trophy. He has been flying for about three years. Carl Perkins, Jr., Brian's brother, won the crack-up award with a smashed up F-U-B-A-R.

Jimmy Gardner, 2211 West Fifth Sedalia, flying a class A Kiwi in his first contest, won first place in class A for juniors. His model was finished and trimmed to fly just one day before the contest. On his first flight, Jim got a five-second motor run and turned in a time of 1:59. The motor may run for 20 seconds. Later in the day he got his second flight during a lull in the weather with a 2:34.10 time, but he failed to get his third flight when rain interrupted.

Benny Holmes, Whiteman Air

Force Base, won second in class C open, third in class 1/4A, and was awarded the plaque for having the best finished model.

The Sedalia Flying Club dropped a Wyler Watch donated by Reed's Jewelry, from one thousand and feet. Otis Goss won the drawing and the right to retrieve the watch.

Five models were lost during the day as mud and rain continually hampered the flyers. Three models were lost on the north side of the airport with identification numbers 19317, 9618 and 15873 on the wings. The other two landed on the south side and are identified by numbers 11881 and 16004. The time and work that goes into these models make them valuable to their owners and their return will be appreciated. Anyone finding any of the lost models are asked to call Hill's Hobby House TA 7-0027.

Spectator attendance and enthusiasm was not as great as that of contestants due to the rain and quited a few who braved the conditions. They saw some of the best flyers in the United States in Otis Goss, Benny Holmes, Dave Kneeland and Ed Christenson. All are nationally famous for their flying feats and Christenson represented the US in the glider class at the world championship held in Czechoslovakia in August, 1957.

The Knucklebusters are looking forward to a bigger and better contest next year.

Drag-On Car Laundry Program Nets $60.40

The Sedalia Drag-Ons in cooperation with the Sedalia Cancer Society conducted "Operation Simo-Wash" at the Wayne Richardson Service Station Saturday, May 10. Members of the Drag-Ons participating in this project worked all day Saturday washing and waxing cars, and at closing time had a total of $60.40 to turn over to Sue Wilson, of the local Cancer Society.

The Drag-Ons have made plans to attend a car show at Whiteman AFB in conjunction with Armed Forces Day, May 18.

UAW Returns To the Table After a 'No'

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union returns to the bargaining table with the automotive big three today after getting a resounding unanimous "no" to a UAW proposal that contract differences be arbitrated.

It was the second setback in a month for Walter Reuther's UAW. The big three on April 28 rejected his proposal to extend the current contracts for three months.

The three-year contract with General Motors expires May 29. Similar contracts with Chrysler and Ford run out June 1.

There was no immediate comment from UAW President Reuther on the rejection of the arbitration proposal he put forth Saturday.

GM took less than five hours to turn thumbs down on Reuther's suggestion which it termed "another publicity maneuver."

Ford and Chrysler took a similar stand yesterday. Ford said "it just does not make sense" to submit the complicated contract questions to outside arbiters. Chrysler, in its statement, rapped the idea as "part of a long campaign to obtain exorbitant and inflationary concessions" from auto companies.

The UAW and GM and Chrysler met in day-long bargaining sessions yesterday. Ford and the UAW met for only half a day.

The UAW, whose members now average $2.40 hourly, has put no estimate on the increases it seeks from the auto firms in wages, pensions, cost of living allowances and other benefits. GM has estimated the UAW package would cost 73 cents hourly, while Ford estimated 70 cents.

Gogi Grant Settles Her Contract Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Gogi Grant has settled her contract troubles with three music companies.

The singer took the advice of a Superior Court judge yesterday and relinquished $19,000 worth of royalties in exchange for her freedom from her contract with Era Record Co., Thunderbird Music Co., and Warner Music Co. She had sued ERA and Thunderbird for $150,000 damages charging fraud in connection with her royalty payments. The companies had filed a $1,050,000 counter suit charging breach of contract.

The music concerns agreed to drop their suit.

Viewing Jury Would Laud TV 'Verdict'

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—It would be interesting to hear the verdict of the night-time viewing audience if CBS-TV could find a regular night spot for "The Verdict Is Yours."

We believe the viewing jury would applaud this excellent program vigorously.

"The Verdict Is Yours" (Mondays-Fridays, 3:30 p. m., EDT) is a novelty on television—or anywhere else. It is a series of courtroom dramas without scripts. Nobody knows how a case will end, until a jury selected from the audience renders its decision.

Its writers conceive a dramatic situation, delineate the background of the characters involved, and give a general notion of the type of examination and cross-examination each will undergo. From there on it's up to the actors.

"It calls for a special type of talent in an actor," says Eugene Burr, producer of the program. "We've rejected some excellent actors and actresses simply because they lacked the ability to ad lib. They must, to a large degree, create the characters themselves."

The other day we were smuggled into a casting session for "The Fisher Case," which will run for a week beginning May 21.

"The Fisher Case" involves a fellow accused of leaving the scene of an auto accident—but, believe us, that's only the beginning of the troubles in store for him.

While Burr and his staff study the candidate impassively, an actual lawyer, Robert Simon, grills the witness.

Actor A for the role of Fisher acted guiltily as a homemade sin under Simon's questioning. It was, obviously the way he conceived of the character. He writhed in torment and wore a haunted expression that made us suffer with him.

Actor B for the same role acted pure as the driven snow. Here, surely, was a young fellow you'd welcome in the family. He drove back hard at the attorney—and departed with the grave mien of a man going to church.

Actress A for the role of Susan Asbury—a gorgeous hussy type—was as pretty as a picture. She was also, unfortunately, nearly as lifeless.

Actress B for the role was a slender, attractive blonde with a vivid imagination who rocked the examining attorney a couple of times with baffling details. The one trouble was that she simply seemed too nice a girl.

Actress C was a most convincing lush blonde.

Bob Burns' Daughter Released from Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 20-year-old daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns has been released from a five-day jail sentence.

Barbara Burns was sentenced Monday for contempt when she was late for a Superior Court appointment.

Yesterday her attorney obtained her release on a writ of habeas corpus returnable May 21. The attorney told the District Court of Appeals that she was unavoidably late and that the judge acted with "unwarranted abuse of discretion."

She was scheduled to appear for questioning about her refusal to testify against her husband, David James Mack, who is charged with having sold heroin to her.

Miss Burns also faces narcotics charges.

Stover Seniors Enjoy Trip to Colorado

The Stover High School seniors have returned from their senior trip. The group left Friday, May 9, accompanied by their sponsors, Mr. Walters and Leo Jones, and by Mrs. Glen Martin as girls chaperone.

They left by school bus for Kansas City where they spent some time at Swope Park and other points of interest. From Kansas City they traveled by train to Denver, Colo., where they arrived at 7 a. m. Saturday. Grey Line Tours then took them on a 12 hour tour of Denver, Loveland, Estes Park and Boulder, Colo. They returned to Kansas City by train arriving there at 8:30 a. m. Sunday. They remained in Kansas City until evening when they returned to Stover.

MoPac President Sees Modest Net Income

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Russell L. Dearmont, president of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, predicts the line will end the year "with a modest net income."

Dearmont said so in a report to stockholders at their annual meeting.

He said the brightest spot in the Missouri Pacific territory was the winter wheat movement, expected to be twice that of last year's crop.

William G. Marbury, St. Louis, board chairman of the Mississippi River Fuel Corp., was elected a director.

There was no opposition to a management slate which included Marbury and four incumbents.

Pair Survives After High Building Plunge

DETROIT (AP)—David Grimmer, 2, and Joseph Dziatkowski, 67, fell from high building windows in separate plunges yesterday. Both survived.

David plunged from the third floor window of his home. He landed on a rubbish pile. His mother, Virginia, 23, said he was unscratched. Dziatkowski plummeted four stories from the window of his room at Henry Ford Hospital. He was recovering from a blood clot operation, but was later listed as critical from chest injuries received when he struck soft soil below the window.

US Attorney Won't Leave Powell Case

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Atty. Paul W. Williams says he has no intention of disqualifying himself from the Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. tax evasion case.

Williams said this at a news conference yesterday. It was his reply to a challenge by William F. Buckley Jr., editor of the National Review, that he withdraw from the case against the Negro Democratic congressman.

Buckley said Williams should disqualify himself "as there are no grounds, given the record, for public confidence in his management of the case."

Buckley appeared before a grand jury yesterday under subpoena. The government is seeking to determine whether the decision of another grand jury to indict Powell was influenced by Buckley. The editor repeated that he sent copies of an article in his conservative magazine to members of the indicting grand jury. The article was critical of the Justice Department's handling of the case.

In a statement to newsmen, Buckley accused Williams of negligence in the performance of his duties.

Presentation of the case before the indicting grand jury had started before the 1956 election in which Powell supported President Eisenhower because of the desegregation issue.

Shortly after the election, a delay developed in the tax investigation against Powell. The indictment was reported last Thursday. "At no time," Williams said yesterday, "has the Department of Justice, directly or indirectly, instructed me that the investigation was to be killed or closed."

"In fact," he added, "my specific instructions were not to discharge the grand jury pending evaluation of the case."

Powell told a news conference in Washington that his indictment was "persecution."

Asked whether the tax evasion charges were true, he said: "I don't know until I talk to my lawyer tomorrow."

Edward Bennett Williams of Washington is representing him.
